

1. This one connects the heart with your base. Gives healing to the base and spine, where old beliefs are intertwined. Something that we created when we were kids and now often still have the same beliefs, patterns and doubts.

The activation unlocks DNA strands to remind you who and what you are so that you can live your full potential.

Heals birth trauma. Detaches yourself from your mother in a way that you will notice the patterns that you have unconsciously taken over from her. And you can transform the patterns. The patterns often occur in the womb. Her cells interact with your cells. Sometimes her cell memory can also become part of your memory. It is time to be you again!
